Day 1 - Your Decision Line

Phase: DECIDE

Say YES. Figure It Out Later.

CORE TRUTH: If you are thinking about it, it already matters. Clarity is not missing - courage is.

Teaching

Most people delay because delay feels responsible. But delay erodes self-trust. Today you cross the line: decide once, then stop renegotiating.

Installation Practice

- [ ] 1. Write the decision plainly (no future tense).
- [ ] 2. Ask: Does delaying this lower my authority?
- [ ] 3. Ask: Would I respect myself more if I acted now?
- [ ] 4. If the answers point to action, decide. Cross the line. No renegotiation.

Today's Non-Negotiable

- [ ] Write your decision in one sentence and take one visible step that proves it is real.

Evidence Tracker (today)

Check what you completed. Then write one sentence of proof.

- [ ] Action executed
- [ ] Conversation completed
- [ ] Boundary enforced
- [ ] Follow-through honored

Reflection

Where have I been using delay as a disguised exit?

Share prompt

Share your decision line (one sentence) in the group or to your accountability person.

Day 2 - Execute the First Move

Phase: EXECUTE

Say YES. Figure It Out Later.

CORE TRUTH: Confidence is not required for action. Confidence is created by action.

Teaching

Momentum is mechanical, not emotional. The first move tells your nervous system: We are doing this. Execution creates safety, evidence, and self-trust.

Installation Practice

- [ ] 1. Identify the smallest irreversible action.
- [ ] 2. Take it within 24 hours.
- [ ] 3. No refinement allowed. Execution before explanation.

Today's Non-Negotiable

- [ ] Do the smallest irreversible action today (send it, post it, book it, start it).

Evidence Tracker (today)

Check what you completed. Then write one sentence of proof.

- [ ] Action executed
- [ ] Conversation completed
- [ ] Boundary enforced
- [ ] Follow-through honored

Reflection

What am I making bigger than it is to avoid moving?

Share prompt

Post: I executed my first move (what I did) + one sentence on how it felt.

Day 3 - Stop the Delays

Phase: EXECUTE

Say YES. Figure It Out Later.

CORE TRUTH: Most delay is not a reason. It is an exit.

Teaching

Execution drag sounds responsible: I will do it when I have more energy / after I research / next week. Every delay trains your brain to trust hesitation over action.

Installation Practice

- [ ] 1. Identify your personal delay pattern (your most common phrase).
- [ ] 2. Name it without judgment.
- [ ] 3. Eliminate one delay today through immediate action.
- [ ] 4. You remove resistance by moving through it.

Today's Non-Negotiable

- [ ] Catch your delay phrase once today and replace it with a 10-minute action block.

Evidence Tracker (today)

Check what you completed. Then write one sentence of proof.

- [ ] Action executed
- [ ] Conversation completed
- [ ] Boundary enforced
- [ ] Follow-through honored

Reflection

What is the cost (to my self-trust) of waiting one more week?

Share prompt

Share your delay phrase and the action you used to interrupt it.

Day 4 - Measure the Evidence

Phase: EXECUTE

Say YES. Figure It Out Later.

CORE TRUTH: Evidence is neutral. It does not hype. It does not shame.

Teaching

Most people feel progress but never track it, which keeps them emotionally dependent instead of grounded. Evidence creates calm confidence.

Installation Practice

- [ ] 1. Track evidence daily - not outcomes.
- [ ] 2. Evidence includes: actions taken, conversations completed, boundaries enforced, follow-through honored.
- [ ] 3. Record it. Let the proof speak.

Today's Non-Negotiable

- [ ] Log 3 pieces of evidence today (actions or follow-through).

Evidence Tracker (today)

Check what you completed. Then write one sentence of proof.

- [ ] Action executed
- [ ] Conversation completed
- [ ] Boundary enforced
- [ ] Follow-through honored

Reflection

What proof do I already have that I am becoming someone who executes?

Share prompt

Share 3 neutral evidence points (no story, just proof).

Day 5 - Own the Identity

Phase: BECOME

Say YES. Figure It Out Later.

CORE TRUTH: You do not hope your way into becoming someone new. You act your way there.

Teaching

Once you have evidence, you have permission to claim the identity. Today you stop waiting to feel ready and start owning who your actions already prove you are.

Installation Practice

- [ ] 1. Review your evidence from Days 1-4.
- [ ] 2. Name the identity those actions support (example: I am a woman who follows through).
- [ ] 3. Write one standard you are no longer willing to break.

Today's Non-Negotiable

- [ ] Write your identity statement and one new standard. Then act in alignment once today.

Evidence Tracker (today)

Check what you completed. Then write one sentence of proof.

- [ ] Action executed
- [ ] Conversation completed
- [ ] Boundary enforced
- [ ] Follow-through honored

Reflection

What would change if I treated my standard as non-negotiable?

Share prompt

Share your identity statement (one sentence) and your new standard.

Day 6 - Operate From It

Phase: BECOME

Say YES. Figure It Out Later.

CORE TRUTH: Shift from trying to operating, proving to embodying, waiting to owning.

Teaching

Identity becomes real when you speak from it and decide from it. Today you practice leadership over your own choices - from the person you are becoming, not the person who hesitates.

Installation Practice

- [ ] 1. Name the identity your actions now support.
- [ ] 2. Speak from it (write 3 sentences you would say as her).
- [ ] 3. Make one decision from it today (especially the one you have been avoiding).

Today's Non-Negotiable

- [ ] Make one clean decision from your identity and take the first step within 24 hours.

Evidence Tracker (today)

Check what you completed. Then write one sentence of proof.

- [ ] Action executed
- [ ] Conversation completed
- [ ] Boundary enforced
- [ ] Follow-through honored

Reflection

What decision becomes obvious when I stop negotiating with my old self?

Share prompt

Share: the decision I made from my identity + the first step I will take.

Day 7 - Lock the Operating System

Phase: INTEGRATE

Say YES. Figure It Out Later.

CORE TRUTH: Momentum stays when you keep a simple system: decide, execute, track evidence, repeat.

Teaching

The goal is not a perfect week. The goal is a repeatable way of operating. Today you lock your personal momentum system so you do not slide back into decision-drag.

Installation Practice

- [ ] 1. Write your personal momentum rule (example: I move within 24 hours of a decision).
- [ ] 2. Choose 3 evidence metrics you will track daily.
- [ ] 3. Schedule a weekly 15-minute evidence review.
- [ ] 4. List the next 3 decisions you will make this week.

Today's Non-Negotiable

- [ ] Create your 7-day continuation plan: 3 decisions, 3 actions, 1 review time.

Evidence Tracker (today)

Check what you completed. Then write one sentence of proof.

- [ ] Action executed
- [ ] Conversation completed
- [ ] Boundary enforced
- [ ] Follow-through honored

Reflection

What will I do next time I feel the pull to delay?

Share prompt

Share your momentum rule + your weekly review time (so we can hold you to it).
